Project description:

Do you dream of an internet where you control your own data?

Do you think it's possible to keep the data ownership while publishing posts to data silos like Twitter and Facebook?

Could you gather reactions from those pages and display them on your website?
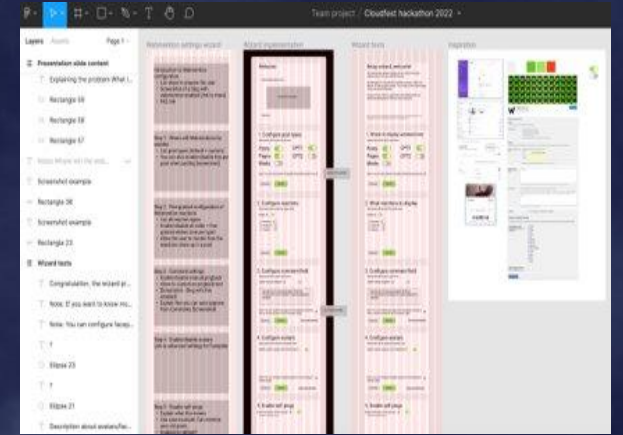

With IndieWeb & WordPress all this is possible, and much more.

How did we find the problem to solve?

What we worked on

New post features

Social media

New settings page

Results and Learnings

What We Achieved:

- Concrete improvements to make Webmention gain traction 👈
- Redesigned settings page for easier user onboarding 💡
- New post features 🤍
- Finnish(ed) translation of plugin 🇫🇮

- Add feature for pre-filled settings depending on user type (journalist, freelancer...) 📝
- Enable voluntary payments for shared links 💸
- Brid.gy integration
- Promote plugin to WordPress core as it becomes popular ✨
